There must be some poker school, who will teach you that how to play poker. I think Poker School is one of the best mediums for gaining quality information about all the aspects of poker games. If you know, please provide some poker schools list.

Thanks

Poker is very simply a game of mathematics, if you at least understand maths, there isn't much else to worry about, it is a game that is easily picked up even though it may seem intense to some people at first. If you study a poker guide this will give you an incite into the mathematics behind the game.

Once you understand them you can easily become a Poker Champion

I agree. I have been browsing affiliate sites on the internet and I saw a banner which leads me to a Poker School, but that was a long time ago. Anyway, I manually self-study on how Poker is played.
