hi, no sorry I've not bought this, let me know if it pays off tho!!!

do these poker systems work across any casino operator or do they only work in specific casino's?? If so which casino's work best???

thanks

Hi

I don't know if that system works or not but I notice he want's $2500 for it and he wants to be paid by weston union or bank transfer which means you have no chance of getting that back if it doesn't work and he could not send you anything at all abd you would still never be able to get the $2500 back.

It's a massive gamble buying a system like that.

When the attacks against me started, I mostly ignored them for about a year and just went about my business managing my teams. I sometimes publicly responded to the false allegations from especially literally sick competitors trying to compete. While my responses clearly refuted the garbage, it only encouraged the competitors to fabricate more lies, with more inventive ways of discrediting me (such as fake review sites). While they had ample time to attack me, I had better things to do than respond to idiots.

The ridiculous false claims ranged from that I lived with my parents next a homeless hostel with my parents, to that I'm a scammer on the welfare and my technology couldn't possibly be effective. Truly, if you understood the full extent of the false claims, you would conclude the attackers are demented mental patients - for real. Indeed some of the claims were utterly ludicrous, but unfortunately, even without a shred of justification to the ridiculous claims, some people actually believed them.

So for about a year I simply got on with my work, and was reassured by my own players that I shouldn't bother with the morons. Put yourself in my shoes . . . you are an honest person. You know your claims about your technology are accurate. Because you're in the spotlight, envious people tend to attack you. You know the attacks are a huge injustice to you and your name, but you have more important things to do that bother with clowns. There are idiots literally STALKING you, driving past one of your properties, taking photos then publishing them on websites, sick morons contacting your family members under fake names, pathetic people contacting your wife claiming that you're cheating on her, ridiculous claims that you live next to a homeless hostel with your parents in a poor area, and the list goes on and on and on and on! I ignored it and just went on about my business for a long time. But when is enough enough? Do you just continue to ignore them and get on with things, or let the morons have free-reign discrediting you and your name to the point where it appears to be their full-time occupation? Eventually I decided to create this site as the one-stop resource so that IF people wanted to know the truth, they could find all the information here. That way, ignorant people that believed the first thing they read about me could stay ignorant, but the people that actually sought the real truth could find it - here.
