Hey

Noticed Ladbrokes and William Hill both giving away completely free money to new customers, here's the direct links:

Ladbrokes £25 Free

William Hill £30 Free

Any idea's why they're doing it? To be honest i'm loving it, problem is that they give you free money and you then have to wager it something like 1000 times before you can cash anything out

Hmmm

Ladbrokes you have to bet £500 before you can withdraw, and William hill you have to bet £600, that's 20 times.

Think you might be thinkin of another offer, 1000 times sounds ridiculous, I wouldn't go for an offer like that.

I just noticed you can't withdraw winnings at hills unless you deposit £35, but with lads you can withdraw winnings on the free £25 without depositing so that's a pretty good offer.

Guess what you can do at hills is see if you can win more than £35, if you do deposit for your profit.
