
Roulette Strategy. Free info.

Hey Everybody,

I posted about how roulette can be risky if you don't know what your doing.

So I write this nice strategy for you to increase chances of winning. (If you know how to play, you will understand it. Otherwise you'll be confused. If you don't know how to play, pm me and I will explain it to you.)

Works with both online and offline.

This roulette strategy calls for straight-up inside bets where you get paid 35 to 1 if one of the numbers you bet on is rolled. Unless you can afford to splurge, I suggest you select a casino offering $1 chips and $5 minimum inside bets. (Most Internet casinos qualify.)

Risk no more than 40 $1 chips. By limiting yourself to relatively small stakes, you'll never get badly hurt playing this roulette strategy. Pick any five numbers you like, birthdays and anniversaries or other favorite dates come to mind. If you hit twice in a row, the winnings are nothing to sneeze at!

Start by placing one $1 chip on each of your five chosen numbers. Repeat this same wager until you win; you have enough chips for eight spins. When one of your numbers hits, you'll win 35 chips. Now it gets exciting!

Divide the 35 chips you've won over your five numbers, seven on each. If you hit again the pay-off will be 7 X 35 chips, which equals $245 real dollars!

At this point you have to make an agonizing roulette strategy decision. You could quit and cash out - the profit will cover several past or future losing sessions - or you could bet-back 100 chips by placing 20 on each of your five numbers. If you hit a third time you'll collect $700!

On the other hand, if the roulette strategy collapsed at this point, you're still ahead by more than $100. Always remember that no betting system is infallible, that's why I suggest you don't risk more than $40!

Hope this helped out. ;)

Hi ansub,

Not really the way I would play roulette, but a cool method to chase a big win quickly, the chances of hitting one of the five numbers three times in a row must be slim. I prefer to bet lower amounts and only increase to cover losses, takes longer but you don't blow money so quickly.

^ True.

It would increase chances of winning since you would have more plays with smaller amounts. Depends what kind of player you are though and how much your budget is.

Your wins would be smaller though and losses smaller too. But on the other hand, you wins can be bigger but loss bigger too.

Suit yourself based upon the budget, really depends upon budget. ;)

In the game of roulette, players may choose to place bets on either a single number or a range of numbers, the colors red or black, or whether the number is odd or even. To determine the winning number and color, a croupier spins a wheel in one direction, then spins a ball in the opposite direction around a tilted circular track running around the circumference of the wheel.

This will increase the chances of winning, because you have more games with smaller amounts. Depends on what type of player you are you and how much is your budget.

Roulette was indeed very risky to begin with. There is actually no way to increase your chance of winning in this game since it was definitely a game of luck. There are no strategies that could make you win in this game. It is a game that tests your luck.
